Comme des Garçons_Biennial Exhibition — 2007 Biennial Exhibition — 2007 Phenomenal building was born to host the exhibition series that bears the label of _NAMA Art Collection_. In 2002, Phnom Penh became the capital of Cambodia and many western capitals were slowly awakening. The air-conditioned museums had just opened and Vietnam had become a thriving tourist destination. The _NAMA Art Collection_ realized it was the right time to change its composition and decided to focus on the art produced under the Khmer Rouge regime. The exhibition is composed of thirty-six artists, representing the history of Cambodian art. The exhibition travels through ten different galleries located in Phnom Penh, Siem Reap and Battambang. It is organized according to the chronological period. Painting on paper, Photograph, and the cinematic image mark the three different approaches to painting used by the Khmer artists. Consequently, this exhibition is composed of three distinct artistic periods. The first includes works by artists who worked in the later 1970s and the early 1980s. The second encompasses the period from the fall of the Khmer Rouge to the present day, and the third includes artists who are currently working. In each gallery, the exhibition is organized chronologically.;
